Hello RPSA Families,

We had a great time celebrating the 100th day of school this week. It was fun to see all the different 100 items the kindergartners brought in and the amazing Lego creations created by the Islanders. We also had some high school alumni come and visit our band classes as well as some special guest from Mt. Pleasant High School to talk with our band classes as well as the high school counselors to talk with our 8th grade students about what high school life is like. 8th grade families look for more information to come in the next week to set up a time to help your child pick some classes and ask any questions you may have.

Attendance letters will be coming home. Please remember that we must keep families informed on how many days their student has missed. If you need assistance in getting your student to school or any social/emotional supports please reach out to myself so we can help and support you. Remember we still need you to call the office if your student is going to be out of school for the day. This helps us when working with families who have significant absences as well as what we need to report to the health department in regards to illness.

Thank you for continuing to share your students with us.
Sarah Anderson
